The what and the why

- Inkpath generates a mobile portfolio, built to help you enhance your career prospects by keeping an up-to-date record of all your activities
- Inkpath can record all your skill and career development activity, in your university and beyond, mapped automatically across a set of key skills
- Inkpath records your activity – past, present and future – and you retain access for life
- Inkpath can be used on mobile or on a PC
- Inkpath gives you a rich record and information for your CV, funding applications and other purposes

The what and the why

- Inkpath enables you to identify development opportunities from Brunel and beyond, or record your own training and experience
- Brunel can set pathways to follow which collate useful events, opportunities and content relevant to you
- Inkpath enables you to take ownership of your personal development

Activities

- Find and book activities
- Create/record your own custom activities
- Mark activities as complete, add notes and provide feedback and evidence
- View and export your activity history
- Simply scan a QR code to add an activity straight to your profile

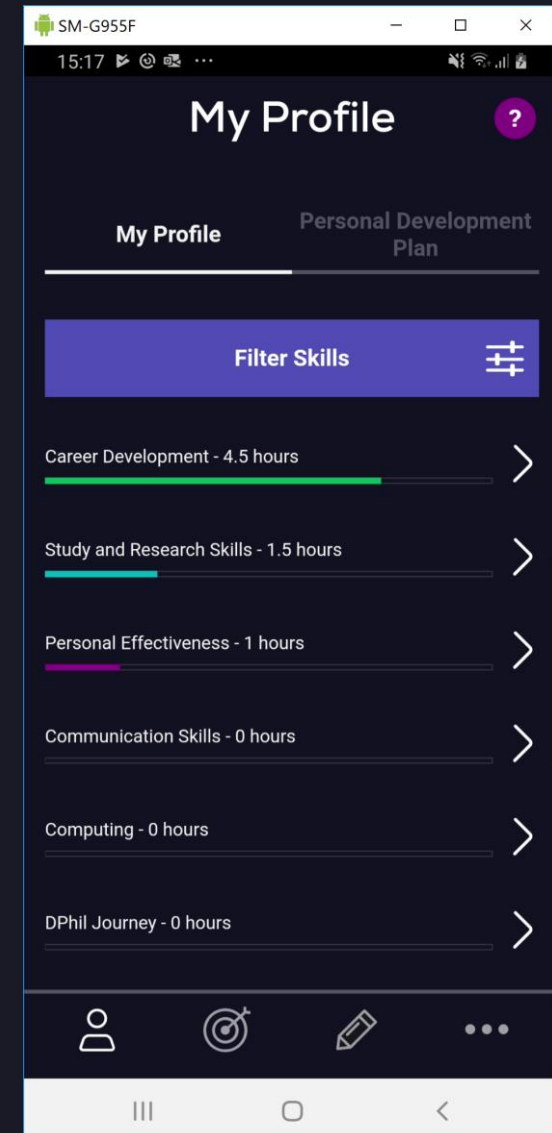

Goals

- Find goals (groups of related activities, series of activities or pathways)
- Create your own custom goals
- Review your progress through your goals and identify your next steps

Profile and Skills

- Develop your skills by identifying new activities
- Report on your skill development for further discussion
- Review and reflect on your skills with questions to help you identify strengths and weaknesses

Please use the chat to ask question as we go if you wish
